God is working His wonders in the south of France!

Our team had the opportunity to see and hear first-hand how God is moving and how He is working through the lives of the missionaries on the ground. Our main contact was Chris, who has been in France with his family for many years.

Sunday, we went to church with his family and a colleague. It was incredibly impactful to worship together the same Lord in different languages. There was a projector for sermon notes and we had a translator so we were able to follow along. The church was full of warm, welcoming people, with a mix of nationalities and generations. The body of Christ made us feel like family, even with the cultural barriers. That's what Christ does!

Our team had a chance to hear from Chris and his colleague about ways Taylors FBC can partner with them in southern France. It was wonderful to hear the strategic and powerful ways the gospel can and is going out to the North African communities. We also met a North African Berber, who shared how there is a growing number of Christians in his people group—a people group that traces their lineage back to Simon, Rufus and Alexander. The Berber peoples were part of our early church! He was the fifth person in his city to convert and has such a great passion for our Lord and Savior. He had to leave his country due to his conversion but hopes to be able to go back when his French Green Card is available. He is a man on fire for Christ and has a great desire to see his people come out of darkness and into light!

One of the most strategic activities we did was prayerwalk the college campuses, described by Chris as “unchurched territories” because of how few evangelicals are there. We wanted to see if there were opportunities for Taylors to minister to the students. It is difficult to get on the campuses. Though one university is walled and the other nearly inaccessible, we found there are still possibilities to reach the students there. The harvest is plentiful and the opportunities are great for the gospel to be shared.

One afternoon, we connected with two Journeywomen, who actually attended an upstate university, of all places! The team clicked well with these young women who are there to support Chris in his efforts to connect and share with North Africans. It was amazing to see the city through their eyes. They took us through the surrounding North African communities to pray for the families and businesses there. We saw a nice coffee shop where different churches volunteer to serve coffee for one euro, therefore drawing the college crowd. English lessons are also offered, lending to opportunities to share the gospel.

On one of our drives, we visited a historic church situated high above the city. It offers a fantastic view of the densely populated city below, which is adjacent to the Mediterranean Sea. It was a testimony of God's power and wonder! We prayed over the city, asking the Lord to bring the right harvesters to that beautiful place. Chris also drove us to ports where they do Bible distribution. It's a strategic location and Chris believes that if these places see revival, it could rapidly spread across Europe. Please ask us for more stories. We've got so many to share! God is Great. He does Great things. AMEN!

Please pray:

- for ONE North African man to come to Christ and be raised up as a leader in this movement, as the North Africans will respond better to one of their own countrymen.
- for opportunities to share the gospel of Jesus Christ on college campuses and through English lessons at the coffee shop.
- for many to be saved through Bible distribution at the ports, and for the gospel to be taken back to the countries from which they came.
- for the Lord of the Harvest to bring laborers to this amazing place.
- for our church as we discern the part we've been called to play in ushering in His Kingdom in southern France.

"With several empty tables in the hotel breakfast area, we wondered why the couple sat at our table. We would soon find out. Initially they seemed a bit reserved, so I began praying for a way to have a conversation with them. A question about the hotel led to other general topics. Hoping to get to a spiritual conversation, I asked about a church in their town. Soon the woman had told me about her father she was very concerned about. When I asked if I could pray for him, she readily agreed. After the prayer, with tears in her eyes, she reached out to hug and thank me. When Steven learned they have a Bible but don't often read it, he encouraged them to read the book of John together. She volunteered to give me their contact information. When we saw them as they were leaving the hotel, she again hugged and thanked me. In a text message she wrote, "To meet you was a precious moment - we will not forget the moments that we shared." They thought they chose our table because the chairs looked more comfortable, but God had a greater purpose in mind." — Carolyn Freshour, Team Participant

Concerts in Austria!

A team of eighteen singers from Taylors Worship Choir, as well as six other church members, joined 75 others for a concert tour of Vienna and Salzburg, Austria, in early September. In addition to presenting five concerts, they met and talked with people from around the world. Continue to pray that the seeds of the gospel that were planted might grow and bloom in the coming days.

Magical Mystery Tour XV

Each year, the Regeneration Student Choir kicks off the year with a mystery trip. This year the group went to Camp McCall for fun and fellowship followed by a visit to Sassafras Mountain, highest point in the state of South Carolina. Rehearsals are Sunday evenings at 5:00 pm. We invite all students in 6th through 12th grade to join us!

Guest Services Rally

We celebrate the amazing group of almost 200 volunteers the Lord has faithfully raised up to serve on our Guest Services Teams! On September 12, our teams gathered together to prepare for a new year at Taylors FBC. Our evening consisted of laughter, fellowship, vision casting, and training. We had familiar faces who have served for years, as well as many new team members who have started to serve with us to support the addition of our Band Led Service. It was exciting to see so many individuals with a servant's heart gathered in one place. Our team members reflect the love of Christ as they serve selflessly in hopes to Change the World for Jesus. We are thankful for every person on our team!

Three of our Guest Services Team Members were recognized for "extra mile service," for going above and beyond the call of duty to welcome guests. An extra thank you goes to:

Laurie Buck

Recognized for welcoming and guiding a mystery shopper at our Guest Services Desk.

Kaleb Ross

Honoring God Through Prayer

We are so thankful for a great Men's Breakfast with our Taylors Men and Chuck Lawless. Chuck Lawless, author of The Potential and Power of Prayer, and Senior professor of Evangelism and Missions at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary led our time together as we focused on honoring God in our personal lives through prayer. Our hope is that these times together will not only help our men live lives that honor God, but also help our men connect to Life Groups, small groups, and mentorships!

"I'm thankful for the reminder from Dr. Lawless that to slow down and pray is to imitate Jesus' full dependence on the Father. As Dr. Lawless said, "prayerlessness is telling God I don't need him or love him." How convicting!" — Caleb Mitchell

"I have been involved in men's ministry for more than 15 years. Over those years I have either attended or hosted dozens of events. Very few are memorable and even fewer are impactful enough to create real life change. My recent experience at the Men's Fall Breakfast at Taylors FBC was both memorable and impactful. I walked away challenged, and honestly convicted, about my prayer life. While convicted, I was encouraged with practical tools to build new habits and encouragement from other men in the room. Just another reminder of how important the relationship with my Heavenly Father is, but also a reminder of how much I need to lean on my band of brothers right here at home. For these reasons alone, I highly recommend every man get connected to a group of men with a passion for pursuing a relationship with the Lord and each other." — Chris Arnold

Cultivate: Plant, Prune and Flourish in your relationship with God!

Taylors Women kicked off the fall with an evening of fun, fellowship, and enrichment. The evening included a lesson in floral arranging along with a panel discussion with our ministers' wives. The discussion included topics such as living rooted in Christ, digging into scripture, and being pruned in order to flourish.

"It was such a sweet time to get to hear from our ministers' wives. We don't really have the chance to get to hear from them often and truly get to know who they are. I hope that we get this chance to do this more, it was so encouraging!" — Cultivate Attendee

"There were so many special things about Cultivate. I loved hearing the laughter and conversation around the room. After hearing from the ministers' wives, I felt more connected to each of them. Their discussion pointed us to the Word and its importance in cultivating a Godly life; it is water for our souls and essential for growth.

The highlight of the event for me, was noticing the different ages and seasons of life represented (teenagers to seniors!). I am reminded of the influence women have in our homes and hopeful that we will help our families and our church change the world for Jesus!"
— Sara Bryan, Uplifting Events Chair

"Cultivate was such an encouraging event! I loved seeing our ladies of all generations come together to hang out and have fun together! I loved hearing the wisdom from the other ministers' wives as God has blessed our church with such a great group. It truly felt like Titus 2 in action: "older women are to...teach what is good." I see women everywhere discipling and being disciplined in our church and Cultivate was a snap shot of that!" — Allison Powell

"I had a great time at Cultivate. This was the first Taylors Women event I've attended, but I am excited to get more involved and do more. The food, the company, and the speakers were amazing! I really enjoyed getting to hear from each of the ministers' wives and hearing bits of their stories. The flower arranging was really fun too and helped "break the ice" while getting to know the other girls at my table. A great event all around! Now I can't wait for the retreat!!" — Cultivate attendee

Women in the Word

Sowing and reaping together through prayer

Women in the Word equips women to study the Word of God for themselves and to grow deeper in their walk with Christ through biblical community. Both Tuesday night and Wednesday morning Women in the Word groups began with excitement in September while using the E3 (inductive) Bible study method to dig into different prayers through the Bible in order to unearth the nourishing art of biblical prayer and come to know a flourishing prayer life.

Looking to get involved? It's not too late! You can still join in either our Tuesday evening or Wednesday morning group and join our venture into scripture. Sign up on our website or through the Church Center App today!

Mom to Mom

Growing together as moms

Mom to Mom resumed on September 14, with a record number of women for this time of study, encouragement, and enrichment. The room was overflowing with joy as friends caught up with each other, mentor moms invested in moms around the tables, and excitement grew for what the year ahead will hold. God is moving in the lives of the moms here at Taylors FBC and growing their hearts closer to Him!

"What a wonderful start to an exciting year as we study God's Word together, encourage each other, and build community. I am especially happy to have over 100 women registered to attend this year's Mom to Mom." – Donna Davies

Mission 1:27: Hope for the Fatherless

September was an exciting month for Mission 1:27! Four people from the church went to a Jason Johnson conference at Simpsonville FBC. This conference was intended to bring awareness for foster families and for the Connie Maxwell Children's Ministry of SC. The training was very informative. We learned that there are over 4,000 children in foster care in South Carolina and 343 just in Greenville County alone. The numbers are staggering and we need to help wherever we can.

We have been able to help 4 families with the Giving Closet this month, providing clothing, diapers, a car seat and numerous other necessities. We are currently in need of at least 2 new crib waterproof mattresses, a double stroller, two high chairs, and girl's socks (all sizes). If you can help with any of these items, please place them in one of the bins located between the Welcome Center and Student Ministry or drop the items off at the Giving Closet during open hours:
1st and 3rd Saturdays of the month: 9:00 - 10:30 am
2nd and 4th Tuesdays of the month: 6:00 - 7:30 pm

Calling all Grandparents...our foster families would love to get to know you and spend some time with you! Do you have some extra time to prepare a meal, babysit, mow a lawn, run an errand? Let us know and we will make sure you are connected to a family or families. This will be a blessing to so many families who don't have a grandparent living nearby.

Don't know what you can do? Ask us!

Orphan Sunday

Orphan Sunday is designed to draw attention and raise awareness of the needs of the thousands of vulnerable children and families around the world, and the needs of children and families in individual communities. On Orphan Sunday, November 13, we will join in raising awareness, alongside countless other churches around the world, coming together

"We have all heard the African proverb, 'It takes a village to raise a child.' From Paul's passage on the 'Body of Christ,' to Nehemiah's rebuilding a united community in Jerusalem, to Moses appointing 70 elders to '...bear the burden of the people with you, so that you may not bear it alone,' God's Word exemplifies repeatedly that the "true religion" of James 1:27 is best fulfilled in community. We are truly Better Together." – Christian Alliance for Orphans

Registration is open through October 19, for age four through adults!

We are in need of coaches in all age groups. If you are interested in coaching please contact Dawn Vanasse at dawnv@taylorsfbc.org.

Are you looking to serve in recreation at our church but not called to coach? Our Recreation Outreach team is needing volunteers to be door greeters, prayer partners, and overall encouragers during this basketball season. This is a new way we as a recreation ministry are looking to serve our members and guests as they enter our facility this season. This is a low-impact way to serve and will be a blessing to many. Contact Alex Smith at alexs@taylorsfbc.org today if you are able and willing to help us engage those on our campus this season.

The fall semester is in full swing for our students in Taylors College! We have seen the Lord's faithfulness in bringing new faces to our ministry both on Sundays and Wednesday evenings. We recently hosted our quarterly Big Table lunch, hosted Sunday after the 11:00 service. This is one of our cornerstone events that promotes community and engagement with our college students.

The cozy feeling of October offers more opportunities to be outside the walls of the church together as a college ministry. Such opportunities are our Ladies Latte Night at a local coffee shop on October 2, spontaneous day hikes to the mountains, NGU Football tailgates, and other fun ways we strive to grow deep roots and strong limbs of community in Christ. We look forward to seeing spiritual growth in our college students as they not only attend but engage and serve our body well.

College Ladies! Enjoy free coffee, a keynote on strengthening your faith in college from Hannah Roller, worship featuring Catherine Failoni, and encouragement on character from Hannah Smith.

Mom and Mini

We had a wonderful evening together focusing on the relationships of mothers and daughters. The room was filled with a taco bar, nail polish, a bracelet making station and of course, cupcakes! We are thankful for the 35 families represented who attended. Our hope is to always create a space that marks a memorable night together but also helps build a rhythm of taking time out of each month to spend time together with just your daughters.

Each year we like to create four evenings that celebrate a parent and child relationship. Bonfire with the Boys is an evening for fathers and sons. The night will consist of good food, a smores station, slingshot contest, a flashlight scavenger hunt and of course, fire! We encourage grandparents to bring your grandsons as well. Our main goal is to help point fathers and grandfathers to create one on one time with their sons! Sign up in the Church Center App or at taylorsfbc.org/events.

In order to bring glory to God, we seek to bring all people to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ and active participation in His Kingdom, to help them grow in conformity to the image of Christ, and to equip them for ministry and mission in our community, our nation, and among the nations.

Our threefold mission, therefore, is to seek to make disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ as we...

ENCOUNTER GOD.

EQUIP BELIEVERS.

ENGAGE THE WORLD

ESTABLISH THE CHURCH.
